Cardiology Symposium Set for January

A symposium designed to investigate the medical aspects of coronary disease will be held January 14th and 15th at the Hilton Inn in Tulsa. The symposium, entitled "Coronary Disease 1977," will be cosponsored by the John Steele Zink Medical Institute and Hillcrest Medical Center.

The symposium will combine formal lectures by three well-known guest speakers with problem oriented case presentations by practicing physicians. The two-day program is approved for seven hours of Category One credit by the American Medical Association and seven hours of Prescribed Credit by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Guest speakers will be H. J. C. Swan, MD, PhD, Director of Cardiology, Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, Los Angeles; W. Dudley Johnson, MD, Associate Clinical Professor of Surgery, Department of Thoracic-Cardiovascular Surgery, Medical College of Wisconsin, Milwaukee; and Robert J. Hall, MD, Medical Director of the Texas Heart Institute, Houston.

Persons interested in attending should write Cardiology Symposium, Hillcrest Medical Center, 1120 S. Utica, Tulsa, Oklahoma, 74104 or call (918) 584-1351, Ext. 388. □
